

MACH 266: CAM Programming and Introduction to Multiaxis

Credits 1-15

An advanced course focusing on Computer Assisted Manufacturing (CAM) and its use in creating parts of increasing complexity. Students will create parts, apply toolpaths, implement multiple work planes, and conduct analysis of machining processes within the CAM system. This course introduces students to complex 3-axis and 4-axis toolpaths.